Preface

Ut conclave sine libris, ita corpus sine anima.

EVEN WHILE DECLINING that maxim's common but dubious attribution to Cicero, whose writings he knew well, Heiko A. Oberman genially agreed that a room without books is like a body without a soul. Every room in Oberman's pleasant home in the Santa Catalina foothills overlooking Tucson did in fact have its books—many books—and indeed a soul. From his student years in his native Utrecht and at Oxford and then through his long career of research and teaching at Harvard University, the Universität Tübingen, and the University of Arizona, he had assembled an extensive personal library in support of his untiring scholarship in late medieval and Reformation history. Shortly before his death on 22 April 2001 he and his family offered his books for acquisition by the University of Arizona Libraries as part of an arrangement that would establish a chair in his name in the College of Social and Behavioral Sciences' Division for Late Medieval and Reformation Studies, a unit that he had founded five years after his arrival at the University in 1984.

In 2003 the Friends of the UA Libraries began the formal acquisition of the entire collection with the purchase of thirty-nine of the earliest of Oberman's books; by 2010 generous individual and corporate donors provided the necessary funding for the Oberman chair. Meanwhile the UA's librarians and staff completed the tasks of accession and the addition of MARC records of his books to its electronic catalog. The entire Oberman library is now preserved in the Libraries' Department of Special Collections and is available for use in situ by interested readers. Its holdings can be identified most easily in the UA Libraries' catalog (new.library.arizona.edu) by first searching for "Heiko A. Oberman Library" as a title and then modifying this search by author, particular title, or other usual option. The collection contains almost 7000 monographic and serial titles. Not cataloged or included in this total are several long shelves packed with offprints, loose periodical issues, and other smaller items. In all the collection has added some 4700 non-duplicating titles to the UA's holdings.

Most of the books date from the twentieth century or slightly earlier. Although few persons have ever been keener friends of early printed books than Oberman was, he was not a bibliophile in the usual sense of the term. He developed his library as part of the apparatus of a busy, productive scholar, tending to acquire older books only when reliable modern editions or accurate facsimiles of their texts were not available or occasionally when an early book came to hand at an attractive price or as a gift. His library thus includes just a modest yet highly interesting assortment of sixty-five original titles in about 115 physical volumes—some in incomplete sets—dating from the sixteenth through the eighteenth century. The books are generally in at least fair condition and are usually in their earliest bindings or covers. Copies of most of them are held by no more than a small number of other libraries in North America. The books are chiefly by or about both major and minor figures in the era of the Protestant Reformation and the Roman Catholic Counter-Reformation. Several of them reflect Oberman's interest in Greek and Roman classical literature. (Apart from a cropped leaf covering no. 35, there are no incunabula in this collection. As a young scholar, however, Oberman had owned at least one book printed in the fifteenth century—the second volume of Johannes Capreolus' four-part Quaestiones in IV libros Sententiarum Petri Lombardi, printed in Venice in 1483-84. In 1970 he gave this book to the Andover-Harvard Theological Library.) These sixty-five titles, dating from 1506 through 1786, are the books cataloged here. Almost all of them are non-duplicating at AzU, thus adding conspicuously to the Libraries' extensive holdings of original books from the European hand-press era. It is the purpose of this catalog to make these books better known to readers at the University of Arizona and beyond and also, in this year marking the 500th anniversary of the beginning of the Protestant Reformation, to provide a small remembrance of the scholar who contributed so profoundly to our understanding of that event.

Oberman himself valued most of all among his books the published tributes that appreciative colleagues and former students added to his shelves and to which readers may turn to discover more about this extraordinary scholar and his work. Two Festschriften include extensive bio-bibliographical information about him among their scholarly contributions: Augustine, the Harvest, and Theology (1300-1650): Essays Dedicated to Heiko Augustinus Oberman in Honor of His Sixtieth Birthday, edited by Kenneth Hagen (Leiden and New York: Brill, 1990), and Continuity and Change: The Harvest of Late Medieval and Reformation History. Essays Presented to Heiko A. Oberman on His 70th Birthday, edited by Robert J. Bast and Andrew C. Gow (Leiden, Boston, and Köln: Brill, 2000). On the latter occasion in October 2000 many of his colleagues further assembled in Tucson for a gathering that would produce The Work of Heiko A. Oberman: Papers from the Symposium on His Seventieth Birthday, edited by Thomas A. Brady Jr. et al., Kerkhistorische bijdragen 20 (Leiden and Boston: Brill, 2003). Oberman's departmental colleague and friend Donald Weinstein followed with an edition of, with other writings, Oberman's unfinished book on Luther, Calvin, and foundations of the modern world, The Two Reformations: The Journey from the Last Days to the New World (New Haven and London: Yale University Press, 2003). Peter A. Dykema, a 1998 doctoral graduate under Oberman's direction, later completed an edition of his mentor's final major work, John Calvin and the Reformation of the Refugees, Travaux d'Humanisme et Renaissance 464 (Geneva: Droz, 2009).

In recent years the UA Libraries have continued to develop strong collections in medieval and Reformation history both in the Main Library and in the Department of Special Collections. I have selected thirty sixteenth- and seventeenth-century printed books from among these latest acquisitions, all of them separate from but particularly complementing early material in the Oberman collection, for inclusion in an appendix. They bring the total number of books described herein to ninety-five, perhaps an apposite figure on which to pause in this anniversary year.

In compiling even so small a work as this I have increased yet again my debt to colleagues in the University of Arizona Libraries. I am especially grateful to Rare Books Librarian and Archivist J. Roger Myers and to the ever helpful staff at the issue desk in the Department of Special Collections. This catalog would have been much less readable without the timely technical aid of Ms. Deborah Quintana, the UA Libraries' Production Manager, and Ms. Stephanie Zawada in the UA's IT Support Center; I thank them most warmly.

Vol. 2: [a1^r] Operum D. Huldrychi Zuinglii tomus secundus, continens τα πολεμικα, id est pugnas, quæ ipsi cum Pontificijs, Anabaptistis, & alijs aduersarijs suis intercesserunt. [Printer's device]. a-z⁶ A-Z⁶ 2a-2z⁶ 2A-3O⁶ 3P⁴ 3Q⁶ ²A-B⁶ ²C⁴. [1] 2-646 [16] leaves.

Vol. 3: [2A1^r] Operum D. Huldrychi Zuinglii tomus tertius, ea, quae in Genesim, Exodum, Esaiam & Ieremiam prophetas, partim ex ore illius excepta, partim ab illo conscripta sunt, unà cum Psalterio Latinitate donato, continens. [Printer's device]. 2A-2Z⁶ 3a-3z⁶ 3A-3D⁶ 3E⁴ 3F-3T⁶ †⁴. [1] 2-388 [4] leaves.

[Vol. 4]: [2A1^r] In euangelicam historiam de Domino nostro Iesu Christo, per Matthaeum, Marcum, Lucam, & Ioannem conscriptam, Epistolasque aliquot Pauli, Annotationes D. Huldrychi Zuinglii per Leonem Iudæ exceptæ & æditæ. Adiecta est Epistola Pauli ad Hebræos, & Ioannis apostoli Epistola per Gasparem Megandrum. [Printer's device] . . . Tiguri excudebat Christophorus Froschouerus mense augusto, anno M.D.XXXIX. 2A-2C⁶ 2D⁸ a-z⁶ A-Z⁶ 2a-2d⁶. [52], 1-599 [1] pp.

Place and printer of vols. 1-3 are from printer's devices on title pages; the 1545 date is from Gwalther's Apologia ("III. Nonas Februarii . . . M. D. XLV.") in vol. 1. The fourth volume, otherwise lacking in this set, was replaced soon after the printing of vols. 1-3 with the original 1539 issue (Finsler 104) of Quartus tomus operum D. Huldrychi Zuinglii (Finsler 105a).

315×210 mm. Vol. 1 in stiff vellum over boards, late eighteenth or early nineteenth century, rebacked; further minor repairs in twentieth century. Vols. 2-4 in contemporary blind-tooled and stamped pigskin over wooden boards with brass clasps and catches. Complete except for 2R8 (blank) in vol. 1; the preliminary leaves in this volume appear never to have included a star-signed gathering of four as in Adams Z-216. Bottom quarter of title page in vol. 2 cut away and an early inscription effaced.

On front endleaf of vol. 1 an inscription is cut away, leaving only "Donum amicissimi Sal. Mülleri 1 Dec. 1819" below. Salomon Müller is probably the orphaned, short-lived theology student and teacher in Winterthur, and the inscription is perhaps in the hand of Winterthur medical doctor and chief magistrate Carl Emanuel Steiner (1771-1846), a benefactor and close friend who edited for limited distribution a portion of Müller's journals in 1823. See Ziegler, esp. p. 313. Also in vol. 1, on title page: "Sum Henrici Steineri 1584" (possibly transcribed from now missing portion of front endleaf and possibly Heinrich Steiner, d. 1617, husband of the great granddaughter of Zwingli's wife Anna by Anna's earlier marriage); "[Sum] Salomonis Muelleri 1819"; and "Johannes Pestalozzi 1820" (Johann Heinrich Pestalozzi, 1746-1827, Swiss educator).

In vol. 2 are contemporary marginal notations in Latin, with some rubrication, and early notations in German. In vols. 2 and 3: "M(elchior) Kirchhofer Candidatus Theologiae 1797 [at Philipps-Universität Marburg]" (1775-1853, Swiss church historian). In vol. 4: "A. Keller, Past. Illnawiensis 1808" (Andreas Keller, 1765-1835, pastor of Illnau parish, Canton Zürich); on title page, crossed out, "H. H. Balb. / 49" (possibly Hans Heinrich Balber of Zürich, fl. ca. 1640). Vol. 1 was joined with vols. 2-4 apparently not before 1820 but by the time of the set's ownership by the Zwingli bibliographer Georg Finsler (1860-1920), whose labels remain on the spines of vols. 1, 2, and 3. According to accompanying notes Finsler gave the set to the library of the Grossmünster Zürich, which later was merged with the Universitätsbibliothek Basel, whose ownership and release stamps are in vols. 1, 2, and 3. Sold by UB Basel as a duplicate set to bookseller and publisher Herbert Lang (1898-1975) in Bern.

A continuation of the histories of foreign martyrs. London: Adam Islip, Felix Kingston, and Robert Young, 1632.

[A1'] A continuation of the histories of forrein martyrs: from the happy reigne of the most renowned Queen Elizabeth, to these times. With sundry relations of those bloody massacres executed vpon the Protestants in the cities of France, in the yeare 1572. Wherunto are annexed the two famous deliuerances of our English nation: the one, from the Spanish inuasion, in 88. The other, from the Gunpowder Treason, in 1605. Together with the barbarous cruelties exercised vpon the professors of the Gospell in the Valtoline, 1621. London, printed by Adam Islip, Fœlix Kingston, and Robert Yong, 1632.

2^o: A-O⁴ P⁶. [I4], 1-106 (i.e., 108) pp. Pp. 105-106 repeated. Title within an ornamental engraving by “NH” (probably Nicholas Hilliard), dated 1574. This engraving had been used in earlier publications, including Arthur Golding’s English translation (London, 1574) of Jean Calvin’s Sermons sur le livre de Job.

This continuation added to vol. 3 of the seventh (1631-32) edition of John Foxe’s Acts and monuments of matters most speciall and memorable, commonly known as the Book of martyrs.

348×215 mm. Contemporary (or earlier) blind-tooled and blind-stamped full calfskin covers over wooden boards, removed from another early folio volume and joined by supple leather in place of a bound spine. Lacks P6 (blank). Brass corner and center bosses on both covers, the lower center boss missing. Brass clasps (missing) and catches with leather thongs. Metal chain (about 85 cm. long), more ornamental than functional, affixed to the tops of both wooden boards. Beginning of title

(“A / CONTINUATION / OF”) excised and replaced with printed text “A true description of.” These anomalies appear to be an effort by an early (ca. 1650-1700) owner to refurbish this copy as a discrete monograph of especial value or importance. Bookplate of collector Robert Garrett (1875-1961) on front pastedown. Gift of Garrett's son-in-law Lyman Phillips (1915-2004) ca. 2000.
